When Eli Came...

Justin McGregor (pictured) is a Chi Alpha missionary who serves as the discipleship pastor at Austin Peay State University in Tennessee. He shared about Eli, a student he led to the Lord in his Chi Alpha group.

“When Eli came into our Chi Alpha meeting, he was broken. He was dealing with grief from the passing of his father, and he was also stuck in a drug addiction.

Eli decided to try out our discipleship small group, and from the beginning, Jesus began to infiltrate his heart. Within the first two months of being a part of our ministry, Eli gave his life to Jesus, got baptized in water, and filled with the Spirit.

Eli chose to give up his drug addiction and walk strong in the Lord. He then began to learn how to disciple other students. Eli consistently chooses to make his life more and more like Jesus.”

Gregg’s Greeting

Justin is one of 19 new Nationally Appointed Candidate Missionaries I’ll begin working with, starting at Candidate Orientation, March 16-27, 2024, in Springfield MO.

Your prayer and financial support will impact these leaders across America, from Washington state to Maine and South Carolina to Texas.

Thank you for your investment in helping these missionaries grow strong in the Lord and establishing their career-level financial support team.

Please continue to join us in prayer for university campuses across the US. Pray that the Lord will continue to raise up more full-time university missionaries. And just like Eli, pray with us for thousands of students to come to faith in Jesus Christ.
